

MAKE YOUR OWN GARDEN WINDMILL

What do I need

- A square piece of paper
- Straw
- Scissors
- A split pin or an old earring (your mum might have an odd one that is missing its neighbour)

What do I do

- Fold the paper over edge to edge to make a square and cut off the excess
- Fold it again so you can see where the centre is and mark it with a pencil
- Fold the corners in but try not to press too hard as you only want a marker for the halfway point
- Cut half way down the diagonal corners
- Mark every other point as you work round the paper
- Push your earring or split pin through the centre then push it through all the corners you have marked
- On the last one leave the pin in the paper and work round the points with the holes until they are all on one pin
- Now push it through the middle pin and then attach your straw
- Put the end on the earring or split open your pin
- Then voila you have a lovely windmill for your garden or window
